

Review of project group haha by project group PEKS

General layout is clear and straightforward, easy to understand. Most pages relatively clutter-free, which helps reduce cognitive load. Interactive elements generally grouped/positioned close, which reduces kinematic load. Minimal colour palette makes for a good, clean design.

Could consider adding some graphic elements, such as standard-design icons, which could enrich the look of the site and may serve to reinforce visual aspect of interactive elements and increase user-friendliness.

Font sizes generally good, although some inconsistency in size and weight across pages. Perhaps could consider a standard size, with one or two larger sizes for important text/headings?

Consider if it's necessary to have a separate page for admins to edit their account info – could just use the 'standard account' page?
